

Eager readers need
books that open
new worlds.

Aspiring artists and musicians need
the tools to let their creativity flow.

Budding scientists need
the equipment to test their hypotheses.

What can your students accomplish when the sky is the limit?

Submit proposals for classroom resources at www.DonorsChoose.org,
and we will connect you to caring individuals who will fund books, supplies,
field trips, and technology for your students.

Does it work? YES!

DonorsChoose has already funded thousands of projects, benefiting students and teachers in public schools around the country.

Your classroom could be next!

You are the key to their success! Don't let funding stand in your way.
